JEROME LEPAGNOL
49 years old – 13 years at Societe Generale
Engineer of "Ecole Centrale de Lyon" – Graduated in 1995
Credit Risk modeling – Data science
Objective: Contribute on building the bank of tomorrow

Ambitions:

As an employee of Societe Generale since 13 years, I want to commit, along with Caroline LE VAILLANT as deputy, as employee shareholder representative to the Société Générale Board of Directors.
Banking industry evolves, ambitions of the bank and expectations of the employees as well. We have to serve to serve everyone's interests to move forward together, on a long term basis.
By applying to this position, I bring my internal knowledge of the Group, complementary with Caroline's one:

- Central Divisions of the Group across the various assignments around Systems, Processes and Organisation (duties in HR, Finances, Risks, Compliance, Audit and multiple IT departments)
- Subsidiaries, mainly in the international GBIS environment (SGLB (London) SGBT (Luxembourg) , SGUS …)
- Very active contacts within our networks in France (Boursorama, CdN, SGFI, Franfinance …)

Our motivations for this role at the Board of Directors :

- Embody the banks' businesses of tomorrow (by innovating with responsibility) and also the way of developing those by the strength of our networks, in France and abroad, by providing our skills and our vision of the world
- Ensure a direct and non-biased link between the fields (network, subsidiaries, HQ either SU or BU) and the governing body of the bank (Board of directors and general management).
- Reconcile strategic decisions towards work compensation and capital income : both of them are necessary to the other: let's make them work in symbiosis, no need for opposition.
